ITALY MODERN MILAN

In the background of the global industrial revolution and the rise of Bauhaus, modern style came into being. The so-called modern style, that is, more use of straight lines. Besides the cabinet is a straight straight angle, the sofa, bed frame and table are also straight lines, without too many curve bars. They are simple in shape, rich in design or philosophical meaning, but not exaggerated, and they are full of luxury and fashion in simplicity.

ITALY MODERN MILAN

The so-called "master" is such a person: they use their own eyes to see what others have seen, in other people's common things can find beauty.

ITALY STYLE LIGHT LUXURY

The Italian style of light luxury pays attention to the simplicity of the hard decoration, but it is not as arbitrary as the general simplicity style. Seemingly simple and plain appearance, it often reflects a hidden noble temperament, most of which are embodied by some refined soft elements, such as gold, silver jewelry, etc.

On the other hand, it also concentrates the unintended functions and technology elements. Some people think that the Italian luxury style is a new style of fashion and practicality. The integration of modern and classic emphasizes the luxury of simplicity, the integration of modern and classical art, and the embodiment of classical style through furniture and some soft clothes is an important feature of Italian luxury.

The noble spirit is different from the aristocracy itself, the latter is a clear class, and the former is the good intentions given by the general public to the word "aristocracy". In other words, the so-called noble spirit is not a common characteristic of the aristocracy itself, but a mixture of ordinary people's hope that the noble class can have good qualities and something that is self-disciplined by the aristocracy itself.

The so-called noble spirit, first of the cultural meaning, to resist the temptation of materialism, not to enjoy the purpose of life. Two is the burden of society, strict self-discipline, cherish the honor, and assume the responsibility of the society and the state. Three is the spirit of freedom, the will of independence, the courage to say no in the face of power and money. And with the autonomy of knowledge and morality, it can surpass fashion and trend, and do not endorse the views of political power and the majority.
